

Company Profile/Overview

Mercola.com is the world's #1 Natural Health website with 25 million hits every month and over 2 million subscribers. Mercola Consulting Services LLC supports its IT and marketing operations together with our US head office based in Chicago, Illinois. Our offshore office is strategically located in the Makati Central Business District (CBD), where we offer a comfortable work environment.

We have been in operation since 2009, offering three main services to Mercola.com: online marketing, custom software development, and IT infrastructure.

Why Join Us?

We are a multifaceted company composed of web designers, developers, SEO specialists, web copywriters, Internet marketing specialists, and database and system engineers. We have better access to technology and modern software that provides opportunities for learning and enhancement of your skills.

Our employees are given the opportunity to perform diverse roles in their respective departments. We offer stability for your career and serve as a platform for the continuous growth of your profession. We also provide technical know-how, personality development, and web development trainings for our staff to ensure that they grow into assertive, action-oriented, and well-rounded individuals.

Teamwork is a virtue that we strongly instill, and we consider each employee an integral part of the company. Our teams work and communicate harmoniously in a dynamic environment. We hold team buildings annually to foster camaraderie among our employees.

We strive to exercise social awareness through various people-oriented activities like providing scholarships, volunteering in social work, and donating to charities. We are also focused in giving our employees a competitive salary and flexible healthcare benefits, which undeniably help improve their well-being and lifestyle.

Be part of Mercola Consulting Services, and join our roster of highly skilled and competent employees.